RAC → FRAN: From Planning to Implementation

The Resilient Action Committee (RAC) was created as a volunteer advisory group to research community needs and develop Fairfield's Resilient Action Plan.

As the planning phase concluded, it became clear that successful implementation would require dedicated coordination, fundraising capacity, and long-term partnerships.

The Fairfield Resilient Action Network (FRAN) was formed to carry this work forward, supporting implementation of the plan through coordinated projects, volunteer leadership, and collaboration with the City and community partners.
